Double Jeopardy Liliana Hart

Prohibition Era New Orleans is a city of pleasure and vices for the wicked. But for Chloe Monroe it's a prison. She's grateful to Lucien Deveraux for giving her a job as his maid after her husband's murder, but it's his lover who fascinates her. It's Antoine's face she sees when Lucien is inside her and his name she wants to call out when she climaxes.

Antoine Rousseau has been Lucien's lover for the past year, but they've grown distant since Lucien became involved in selling black market whiskey to the highest bidder. Antoine knows terrible secrets about Lucien's activities and knows he has to get Chloe out of Lucien's clutches before she ends up dead. He sends her to his friend and sometimes lover, Jack Bradford, to keep her safe until he can meet with her again.

Jack Bradford takes one look at Chloe Monroe and falls head over heels. She says she's Antoine's wife, but that doesn't stop him from taking her. When Antoine shows up to claim Chloe, Jack knows there has to be a way to fulfill all their desires and keep Chloe satisfied.

I read this book as part of a Liliana Hart Collection called Strangers in the Night. In this collection was The Madam Duchess, Double Jeopardy and Dominating Gracie. All 3 books are fantastic. Easy and quick to read.

I love Liliana Harts books and would recommend them all.
