Carrie (Book Fairy) Fort says

Favourite Line I really wanted to believe him, but somehow I wasn't completely convinced.

I'm still reeling from this book. It was an amazing heartbreaking story that had my crying like a big baby. I LOVED EVERY MINUTE OF IT! Just whoa!

Grace is a protection angel who's job is to protect the Tate family line. She has always followed the councils orders but, that started to change when she met Josh. She gets all girly when he is around. Then Charlotte comes into the picture and she's a Vampire but MORE. You know I won't tell you more so go get the book. It's got a great story line, action, vampires, angels, and of course fallen angels. All if the characters are amazing, I know you will fall in love with them and this book. The ending broke my heart but, gave me hope for the future and Grace's future.

I was given this book by author for an honest review (LoP)

Gaaahhhh!!! Finishing Fall For Me has left me desperately anticipating the sequel! This book is a must read for any die-hard YA fans (and romantics!) out there! Angels and vampires are not my 'thing' as a general rule (with the exception of Twilight, of course!), but I was pleasantly surprised by Fall For Me! This delightful, romantic and well-written story puts a different twist on angels and vampires entirely - there were many elements that left me thinking 'wow, that's new' and twists and turns that left me guessing until the end. I was honestly in for a massive shock at the half way mark (I won't say why or I'll spoil the twist!) but I was blown away!!!! In a good way. And the love triangle between the main character, Grace, fallen angel Seth and mortal Josh had me genuinely torn! And made me wonder which team K.A. Last's readers will end up on - Team Josh or Team Seth???? I can HONESTLY say I cannot choose and the anticipation of finding out what's to come is killing me!!! As a sucker for romance, the love triangle is probably my favourite element of the book (although there are so many things in this story that I found interesting and unique) and at the end I was literally in tears and wanting more!!! I CANNOT WAIT FOR THE SEQUEL!!!! I have to say that the love triangle thing isn't usually for me but, once again, Fall for Me changed my stance on this! If you are a Twilight fan, although this novel is original in its own right and certainly not a Twilight rip off, you'll LOVE Fall For Me!!!

Fall For Me was such an exciting read! I mean, angels, and demons? Ahhh!! So many shocking twists! I'm seriously in love with this book! I can't read the second book in the series fast enough!

Love me some Angel stories, doesn't matter, good or bad bring them on!! Fall For Me was no exception. I loved it! Here is why I enjoyed it....good plot, a strong female character that is bad ass, with a good story flow.

Grace & Archer are twins that look nothing alike. That's because one is a human and the other is not. The plot and story line, I thought was unique. Yes... there are vampires (not nice ones) then there are angels that protect the humans, (not original) BUT, the way the story is laid out, the characters, the plot, all the twists and turns, that all put together creates a very interesting unique story. It's written without errors or none that I noticed. I was able to understand the meaning behind the title Fall For Me which is very appropriate for the book.

A very good YA supernatural romance action novel, that flows (way better than my review) well and that's also well paced with lots of twists and turns. It's a quick read with lots of action and romance. If you're a fan of angel stories than you will love Fall For Me. I recommend Fall For Me to all ages.

I received a complimentary copy of this book in exchange for my honest opinion and review.

{my thoughts} - I enjoyed this book far more then I thought I was going to. {k. a. last} is a memorable writer in my honest opinion. The characters each have their own individuality. I could easily imagine who was talking and when throughout the dialogue.

{grace} - She's a very strong willed girl that isn't afraid to voice her opinion and stand up for what she believes in no matter what the ending consequence may be. She is determined and nothing seems to get in her way, let it be a higher power or her closest friends and relatives.

{archer} - He is {grace's} twin brother and together they share a unique history but both stand up for the same things. They have the same beliefs and even when they disagree they still take each other's side.

{josh} - He is an interesting character. He seems to be shy but in reality he isn't and he isn't afraid to speak his mind either. He makes some errors in judgment which may cost him what he really wants, but in the end I still have hope things might work out for him. He's one of those good guys gone bad types.

{seth} - I have to admit he is one tough guy. He is loyal to his beliefs and doesn't give up on something when he has it in his head it's what he really wants. He will protect and remain loyal to those that he believes to be on the same side as he is. He isn't out to hurt anyone and he only wants to do what he believes is right, but sometimes he like most normal people seems to have a lapse of judgment.

After reading this book, I have to admit I am all for {josh} being the one to take over and be the hero. I think the series is kind of set up to be that way at this point, because he isn't where he was in the beginning, he isn't on top of the world so to speak any more. However, the more I think about it I am more of a team {seth} kind of girl! I look forward to reading the next book in the series when it comes out!

{reason for reading} - I was given a copy of this book from {k. a. last} in return for an honest review.

What can I say, I loved reading this book. For the first few pages I thought I was delving into another superficial book about high school students and an epic love between star crossed lovers. While it still delivers its intended young adult content, it also throws in some good surprises. The book fluctuates between the point of view of the two most prominent characters, Grace and Josh. However, the epilogue was beautifully written that it took me by surprise to know who was actually responsible for those thoughts. The mythology of the characters is also pretty fun to read. It is a great interaction between the humans, angels, fallen angels and vampires. The face of an enemy never looked so good. It is a pretty fast paced read with the required components: love, malice, death and deception. I am looking forward to the next installment to see how the story unfurls.

Okay, WOW!!!

I really really enjoyed this novel, more than I thought I would!

This book's concept is a great mix of paranormal and romance and was a well-written story with many twists and turns that left me guessing until the end. It raises above all vampire/angel stereotype. The author wrote in an effortless manner, which allowed events in the novel unfold by themselves.

I enjoyed reading the POVs of Grace, Josh, Seth, and Archer; it will keep you enraptured as the pages turn. Each chapter follows the thoughts of the characters and the situations they are in. The characters are well described and are in the midst of a love triangle, which was probably one of my favorite elements in the novel.

Fall For Me is a great captivating story which was really hard to put down and finishing this novel has left me anticipating the sequel! It's definitely a MUST READ!

Monica says

I was a fan of vampire stories, but after the Twilight hit, there seems to be a lot of novels created echoing the same plot. Thus, I did not read much vampire stories after that. Instead, I found out another paranormal creature to love – angels. Now, for this book the author mixed two of my favorite paranormal beings in her story. I admit that at first, I was afraid that it would be like those other vampire stories which are filled with blood and violence, but boy, was I wrong.

More often than not, we see helpless (and dumb?) damsel to be saved by a dashing vampire (ring a bell?). Though the fairytale-like story may be okay to some, the appeal is lost to many. As a feminist, I liked the way the author created the heroine, Grace, as someone who is tough. She has her own principles and beliefs and doesn't cower from higher authority when she is determined. As for the male characters of the story, we have two. Guess why? The first one is Josh, an interesting character with a strong personality. He isn't afraid to speak his mind no matter what the cost will be. The other is Seth, a loyal man who will do everything to follow his beliefs. I think he is also the epitome of perseverance because once he has it in his head, he will do everything just to get it. He also has this dark personality, but is supported with sound reasons.

The characters are well described, though I found it hard to connect with them, especially Grace. She seems to be someone you know, but couldn't understand. Sure, she has boy issues, but her problem doesn't have to revolve around that. This is the same thing with Josh. He seems to be a good guy at first, but I slowly dislike him as the story progressed. I think it is because I have a thing for bad guys. :)

Both Grace and Josh found themselves in a love triangle with Seth. Honestly, I didn't feel that the relationship between the three was strongly built. There wasn't much foundation for their feelings, which perhaps resulted to my lack of connection to them.

Another thing is the POVs in this book. I said POVs because the perspective keeps on changing. I actually don't mind reading others' POVs, but I find it hard to catch-up with this one. Every time there will be a shift in perspective the story will go back a bit and go over the same events that happened in the previous chapter. Then I'd get frustrated because the POV shifting made the story's progress slow.

Even though I have some negative feedbacks for this book, I still like it. The author wrote in an effortless manner which made me feel like watching the story instead of reading it. She also let the events unfold by themselves, which can be a bit exciting and frustrating at the same time. KA Last also has her thing with words – she made me laugh and cry for some points in the story. There are also some sweet moments between the characters and beautiful words exchanged that would make the book lovable by others.

I was given this book in exchange for an honest review.

For these two angels, love is forbidden.

But he has chosen to make the ultimate sacrifice for his angel. His best friend who he loved but could not stand to have just out of reach. He said the words to denounce his title and fell. She was left bewildered and alone

Okay so the Prologue to this book brought me to tears!!

The pain was so tangible that I had to make myself move on to chapter one!

On a side note this was a great editing job no typos bravo!

Grace and Archer are twins. She an Angel he a Hunter. They have no one but each other. Grace has a best friend, Emma but she has no idea about Grace's true identity.

Then enters Josh and Grace feels the connection immediately but love for her is forbidden.

There are truly good twists and turns in this book. I love love the characters and the storyline is great. I was interested and obsessively reading this book.

It has love, laughter, pain and happiness and loads of action!

Hard decisions have to be made and Grace must decide what is truly good. And who she can trust. She has to decide how to break her own heart.....

I will be on pins and needles waiting for the next book in this series!

Thank you K.A. Last for the best read of 2013 so far

Check out the book tour post, I have a great Dream Cast there, and an excerpt too. Just click the button

Wow, I just loved this book, It really hooked my in. I got very attached to some of the characters too. I felt for Grace a lot, she was in a difficult situation for sure. I had to get used to the back and forth from point of views, from Grace and from Josh. But I have to say, I didn't really care for the immaturity if Josh, but I loved Seth. I know he comes off as the bad boy, but I seen past it, I knew there was more to him than it seemed. I really would have enjoyed the story even more than I did if I was able to get into his head. (more than the one small part in the beginning that is, and I didn't know for sure it was him, but think it was)

Josh, he just got on my nerves, especially after a certain big thing goes down that I will not say, so not to spoil anything.

I liked Archer and Graces connection, its interesting how Grace is a Protection Angel, and he is human, but a Vampire hunter, It all made sense after a bit.

Charlotte I like a lot, but I also had that feeling she was more than she seemed, and that she was hiding something.

I didn't really form any connections to the other characters much, like Emma, or Josh's best friend, Ryan.

I will say, at almost the end of this book, I went nuts, if anyone had seen my progress comment at Goodreads, you will know why. I love Seth, and just wanted to cry at something that happens that I didn't like happening. Can't say more, but be prepared to cry like I did.

I will leave you with this total swoon moment. Hope you like it (the italics parts are speaking to each other in their mind):

He slipped my free hand into his and turned it over, tracing my palm with his finger. Seth's touch was gentle and warm.

Are you trying to seduce me? I asked.

Is it working?

A huge smile spread over his face, and before I had time to react he closed the small gap between us. Never in my existence had I felt something as soft, and tender and gentle as that kiss. It surprised me; it was so different to the way Josh kissed me. It was like we fitted perfectly together and the moment his lips touched mine, it felt right. I found myself wanting more. Eagerly, I slid my hand behind his neck and pulled him closer, twisting my fingers into his short blond hair. My mind went blank, and all I knew was his touch. Too soon Seth pulled away and our lips parted. With our foreheads touching I gasped for breath, my heart racing. He gently raised my chin then held out his hand and caught my tear in his palm. I hadn't even noticed I'd been crying, and we both watched as it turned into a diamond. The tears began to flow faster as I remembered catching Seth's tear so long ago.

"I have one of those, too," I said, smiling.

"You kept it? You know it's said if you catch an angel's tear and it turns into a diamond, the one shedding the tear is your true love."

I turned that over in my mind. "You love me?"

"I have always loved you, Grace."

"So, this is how angels kiss then? I never knew..."

"How good it was?" he asked.

Exactly. I felt my smile widen.

You have no idea how long I've waited for this moment, Grace. How long I've waited for you.

I give this book 5 stars out of 5, and highly recommend it. It's a great captivating story, which kept me up late into the night.

I was provided a copy of this book by the author for my honest review.

Rebekah says

I never know what to expect when there are vampires in a novel but Fall For Me does not disappoint! I was telling a fellow author that K. A. Last has a writing style I have never encountered before as a reader. It was refreshing with smart dialogue and structure. I love reading the POV of several characters about a certain situation. Each chapter follows the thoughts of a character and the situations they are in so instead of chapter headings you have their name. Loved this. I thought this structure was clever. I never got lost and I always knew whose POV was being addressed.

Her descriptions are perfect. I felt like I was right there experiencing the same emotions and feelings. I read this novel in about 5 hours and it stayed with me for days. Even now as I write this review I am falling in love with Seth and why he fell for Grace. I was in love with her main characters from the first few pages.

A Protection Angel living on earth killing vampires? Fascinating story. I cannot wait to read the next book in her Tate Chronicles. I know that I will continue to read anything she writes because I had such an awesome experience as a reader.

Cocktails and Books says

I'm not generally a huge fan of YA books. The storyline in most of them are carbon copies of each other with variances only in the settings. So when I started this book, I dreaded the idea of déjà vu. Luckily for me, as I began reading, I was pleasantly surprised by the author's ability to take your standard YA blueprint and change it just enough to create an exciting and unique paranormal world that stands out as wonderfully different.

The three main characters in this book, Grace, Seth and Josh, are in the midst of a love triangle, similar to that of the characters of Twilight. And although I couldn't help but chuckle at the idea of future readers arguing over whether they'd be on Team Seth or Team Josh, I can honestly say that while similar, their story has a life of its own. Their romance is brilliantly written, and I must give kudos to the author for creating YA characters that don't make me angry, annoy me, or bore me. Instead, I have found myself loving Grace and feeling just as torn as she does between Seth and Josh.

This book has plenty of twists and turns with moments that will shock you and leave you eagerly anticipating the next chapter of what has started out as a wonderful series. You will get lost in this fantastic world and may even end up feeling incredibly sad that you've had to leave... I know I did! Whether you're a lover of YA, or a scorned former YA reader like me, this book is delightfully fun and exciting. I absolutely cannot wait to find out what the author has in store for us next!

Nadège Richards says

I am steadily trying to figure out how anyone could give this book anything less than 5 stars. You'd have to be missing half your damn mind not to love it! But I digress.

K.A. LAST made me cry, she made me laugh, and she made me fall in love with more than one character at a time. I finished reading FALL FOR ME mere seconds ago and I knew I couldn't bear to wait another minute. I had to write this review NOW.

FALL FOR ME is elegantly beautiful and wicked -- it rises above the angel/vampire stereotypes and it takes you somewhere unearthly. K.A. LAST stunned me with her passionate writing and her characters -- Grace, Archer, Seth and Josh in particular -- keep you enraptured as the pages turn. I admired her POV transitions, her way of letting the story unfold, and the easy way she made writing in general seem so effortless.

As an author and blogger I've had times where I must step out of my element and try something new. In those times I've discovered my love for trying new things and the authors who have really stuck to me as GOOD READS. H.M. Ward has been one of my favorites for a very long time and so has Alivia Anders and Ally Carter. I wasn't disappointed with Last's work here in FALL FOR ME in the slightest. I will be recommending this to all my friends and book sisters! I need this on my shelves!

FALL FOR ME has made my favorite list.

5 BRIGHT STARS!

Kar Achondo says

Fall For Me is the entertaining and fast-paced first installment in The Tate Chronicles series. I had a lot of fun reading it and I was able to finish it in one sitting.

First, we have a confusing prologue about winged-beings and what seems to be a painful separation. It doesn't make much sense when you first read it but then as the story progress you'll understand it all.

In the chapters we get two point of views. The first one is Grace's. She's a seventeen-year-old Guardian Angel whose purpose is to protect the Tate family who has being hunting vampires for a long while, so she's re-born in every generation to act as their protector. This time, she is Archer Tate's twin sister. They both hunt vampires and live on their own since all their relatives have passed away.

Grace has special powers as an angel such as traveling through some sort of light, healing and she's able to read minds but as an angel she also has some limitations: she's forbidden to fall in love and she's forced to follow the Council's order and if she doesn't follow the rules she risk falling and becoming a Dark Angel. Archer has his own set of gifts related to his Hunter status, such as speed, strenght and overdeveloped hearing. Other than that, they both attend to a normal school like ordinary teenagers.

The second point of view we get is Josh's. He's also seventeen and it's a border at Hopetown Valley High School (the same school as the twins). His mom died 7 years ago so he only has his father. He's dating Abby - the queen b, popular, beautiful- at the beginning of the book but he's sick of her being so shallow and dumps her.

Somehow, both Josh and Grace had have a crush on each other for a long time but since Grace has never acted on it (because it's forbidden for her) and Josh was with Abby, they've never confessed their feelings until now.

The whole relationship is a bit cheesy for my taste. I have a problem believeng that she doesn't know Josh has a crush on her since she can read minds and she's been interested in him forever... And then boom! suddenly and just for the show she realizes that he has feelings for her. Also, Josh has been dating Abby for three years and like two minutes after dumping her, he's all "I love Grace, she's my reason for existing, she's THE ONE". I mean... seriously? A little too dramatic for me, I think.

To add a little more spice to the whole thing, there's a new girl in town: Charlotte. She's a vampire who has a white soul. An exception to all the dark souled vampires out there. So the twins can't quite kill her because she isn't precisely evil. The thing is that the other vampires (the bad ones) are looking for her because they want her blood to make themselves stronger and she's trying to get the twins to protect her. The problem is that even when everything inside Grace is telling her not to kill this girl, protecting her could result in horrible consequences for Grace and the ones she loves the most.

On the other side (quite literally) we have Seth, Grace's ex-BFF who is now a Dark Angel because she fell and now is her enemy (kind of...). Obviously they have history together, but the real meaning of all that won't be revealed until almost the end of the book (yep... you have to read the book to find out what's his part in all of this).

And what I just told you is just a peek at what's happening in the story, because this is just the initial mess which will get far more complicated as you turn the pages.

Through the story we meet a lot of secondary characters and it's a bit confusing at first because it's hard to keep up with the names and everything, but when you get to know a little bit about each of them, everything starts to make sense. I really liked Ryan (Josh's best friend) I found him just adorable.

I think the plot is pretty complicated because there's a lot going on, but I liked the book because of that same reason. It didn't fail to keep me entertained and wanting to know what was going to happen next, so I can say this one is a real page-turner. The writting was pretty good, without too many descriptions and really fast-paced.

Overall, I think Fall For Me is a good book on this topic (angel-related) and even when I had some issues with the main romantic relationship, I'm still looking forward to Fight For Me, the next book in the series.
