Before Rennick Blake, I was just Lily Partlow, the oldest daughter of our town's strictest pastor. Multiple eyes were on me, watching my every action—waiting for me to mess up.

When I met Rennick at sixteen, he became my escape. He took me out of my protective shell and showed me what it meant to be free.

Our lives would drift apart throughout the years. I saw him, clashed with him, loved him sixteen times.

My past should have shown me the error in loving him. It never did.

Rennick Blake was my sin and my addiction.

He was my sixteenth need.
