Hawker partners with a madam to save a world-class Vegas brothel

James Hawker finds her in the Yellow Pages, listed under “P”—for prostitution. This is Las Vegas, after all, where the world’s oldest profession is just another business. Vegas has been a wide-open town for more than a century: a place where respectable Americans can indulge their darkest fantasies. But an unpleasant new attraction has been added to this paradise of gambling and perversion—the forbidden vice called murder. Hawker isn’t a gambling man, but murder is his business.

Barbara Blaine is the most talented madam in Sin City, savvy and tough and radiantly beautiful. A syndicate of gangsters wants to take over her brothel, and Blaine is ready to fight them tooth and claw. But when her longtime lover disappears, she knows the only man who can help her is Hawker, America’s deadliest vigilante.

Vegas Vengeance is the 6th book in the Hawker series, but you may enjoy reading the series in any order.

Someone wants to own the 5C Ranch properties, but they don't want to pay for them. They prefer to use threats, vandalism, assault, and mortar. A friend asks James Hawker to come and help get to the bottom of things. This time, he gets way more than he bargained for.

#6 in the Hawker series. Hawker is an 11 book series published between 1984-1986 by Randy Wayne White writing as Carl Ramm. James Hawker is a vigilante for hire who owes much to "The Executioner", Don Pendleton's series. This series seems to be quickly written for the cash prior to the Doc Ford series, published under his own name, beginning in 1990.

Hawker series - Hawker travels to Las Vegas to determine who is trying to intimidate a group of casinos and a brothel. The brothel's madam's boyfriend, a geologist, is missing and presumed murdered. Following his backtrail gives Hawker clues to the perpetrator and motive.
