While there are many sources of power in the information age we live in , Dr Myles encourages the believer to know the source behind your resources as the source is a critical determinant in releasing your potential. He says your resources should be aligned to your purpose and the principles of the word of God, otherwise you might be empowering yourself to go North and yet land East. Dr Myles made me aware that it is important to empower yourself in the right way, because ideas have consequences in the material world and in eternity. He says the God atmosphere should be created in our work spaces if we want to release our potential, as after Adam fell the atmosphere for work was contaminated and the productivity of mankind decreased , however Jesus came on earth to restore the God atmosphere suitable for productivity. This is a great read I recommend for anyone who wants to grow in life.

"Work is God's way of revealing your talents, abilities, and capabilities. It helps you to discover the satisfaction of accomplishment and the results of perseverance. Without work you'll never see the results of your potential. Without effort you'll never feel the satisfaction of accomplishment." ~ Myles Munroe, "Releasing Your Potential", page 165, paragraph 5.

Wow, this book is amazing! If you want to learn how to release your potential God's way, then this is the book you must read. There are many truths in this book that you won't find elsewhere. Many authors who talk about releasing potential take God out of the equation. The question then becomes: Can someone really know their potential without consulting their Creator? The Bible is the manufacturing instructions for our life and in order to release our potential, we require to consult God's instructions.

God has given each of us potential, but it will require work on our part to release this potential. I am surprised that work is often a fundamental key (the master key) that is neglected to be taught to releasing one's potential.

Don't go to the grave as many have with potential unused. Let us go to the grave as Jesus did on the cross and say as He said, "It is finished."
