This is a kind of mystery story and very easy to understand it because there are a lot of pictures in this book. The main character, Katrina Kirby is a smart woman detective. She listens to the story from 5 people who are supposed to kill the man. I was surprised the trick of dangerous weapon which killed old man because it was little complicated. But it was good book.

Esta bien, como era de esperar ya intuía quien era el asesino desde que leí la página de los personajes pero me pareció normal, es una “historia” para leer cuando no tenes nada que hacer y ningún libro para leer” obviamente es una lectura corta y fácil y te la terminas en media hora o un poco más.

1. How many have you watched movies about detective stories?

Not so many. I like those movies, but I like adventure and love stories better than detective stories.

2. Have you ever found that which is the murder in a story before finishing reading?

No, I haven't. I'm not good at doing that, but I'm interested in reading detective stories.

Sir Michael Gray was dead. His wife, Miss Lady Elizabeth was jealous because her husband liked women. Miss Lady Elizabeth's brother, Andrew Cavell wanted to save the family business. Colonel Fawcett was Sir Michael Gray's friend, but he borrowed $50,000 from him and lost it gambling. Angela Everett was his secretary, she loved money and thought that his boss left her $100,000. Finally, Nancy Flack was the family's housekeeper; she wanted to keep the family together and stop the secretary of running away with Sir Michael Gray. Who murdered Sir Michael Gray? K the detective has to find out the answer. The murderer used a mechanism created by the victim that uses a bow to throw a sharp icicle into Sir Michael Gray's heart. The housekeeper is the murderer... because she wanted to get rid of the secretary, Angela Everett. This story is very well written, and it keeps you in suspense until the end.
