Tyfoon's Tale: The True Story Of A Seafaring Cat Sylvia Murphy

In 1989 Sylvia Murphy and David Greenland set off to sail around the world on their 60 year old Maurice Griffiths' ketch, Nyala. While they were in Portugal they adopted one of the many lost, sickly kittens that haunt the harbours of Southern Europe. They called her Tyfoon, after the Belgian boat that first rescued her. This is the true story of how Tyfoon took over and re-organised the direction of their lives for the next eighteen years. It is a mixture of comedy and disaster, courage and love, that pulls at the heartstrings.

I received a copy from Goodreads First Reads Giveaway. Thank you Sylvia Murphy!

This book was a pleasure to read! As a fellow cat lover, I was able to quickly grasp Sylvia and David's attachment to Tyfoon. Tyfoon filled their ordinary journey at sea with many happy memories, and some scary ones too. This book is full of life and loss that will touch your heart on many levels. Silvia and Tyfoon's tale will always have a special spot in my heart. What a fabulous book!

I would give it 3.5 stars.

It was a cute tale that was quick and easy to read. There were certainly heart warming and cute moments scattered throughout. When I finished the book, I kind of wished that there was more... more adventures, more stories.

One thing though, I was under the impression that the bulk of the story would be about Tyfoon's life on the sea, instead only about half of the book is about the sea, and the other half is about her life on land.

Overall, it was a pleasant read.

A touching, heartwarming story. I loved it, but then I absolutely love cats. It evoked memories of my own beloved cat. It's a very quick read and wished it was longer.

Received free from Goodreads First Reads.
