Happily Ever Chapter says

HOMEBODIES is a short and steamy between-the-numbers followup on Wes and Dustin after they've moved to DC with plenty of heart to be had. This is not a stand-alone, Wes and Dustin have already been given their story. This is a quickie ficlet to let the readers catch up on what they've been up to since their book came out.

As always, Ms. Albert kindly and graciously offers these shorts to her readers for free via instafreebie. Thank you, Annabeth Albert, for that generosity and for keeping us up-to-date on our beloved characters!

Loved this shortie

Amy Johnson says

I really enjoyed "Homebodies" by Annabeth Albert. These short "behind the scenes" type novellas are a great addition to the series. What a fun way to stay up to date with what our favorite characters are up to in between books. Keep them coming and I'll keep reading!
Enjoy!

Trigger warnings: nothing? It's like 30 pages long.

This was...fine? It features my least favourite couple of the series, but it also features a proposal and a kitten being adopted. What more do you need?

Siobhan Johnson says

For some reason I hadn't realized that there was an extra short story with possibly MY FAVOURITE COUPLE EVER in it. So when I was made aware of this, you can bet that I smashed through spacetime just to get my hands on it.

This was lovely. A really sweet short story, that provided excellent closure for my OTP. It was lovely to see them working together, it was lovely to see them still having fun in bed and it was more than lovely to see them getting a goddamn kitten. Not long, but definitely what I needed.

I like these free-short stories just as I like Wes and Dustin!!

Un short muy agradable para los que nos gustó la pareja protagonista :)

3.5 stars

A free short update about Wes and Dustin from Annabeth Albert's Wheels Up. I found the novel to be boring. But this short story is sexy and sweet. I didn't remember that Wes and Dustin enjoy a rather kinky sex, so that was quite a nice surprise. Also, the fact that Dustin prefers to own a cat than a dog as pet is HUGE PLUS POINT in my eyes *laugh*

Nicole Field says

Honestly, this is the first of the Out Of Uniform shorts that I didn't love, and I've been trying to think about why that is. I mean, obviously, it has different characters. Dustin was never my favourite character, and I remember Wes being what saved Wheels Up for me. In this story, Dustin came across to me as annoyingly cocky and, at times in the first half particularly, very fake. That is to say, I liked him even less in this short than I did in the full novel.

My favourite part of this one was them talking together about how they were going to be cat parents together. And the teeny tiny white cat that immediately stole their hearts.

I am so in love with this series, and I loved getting this little extra addition to Wes and Dustin's story! I also loved Dustin's love for LeeLoo! And the ending! AH! I can't wait to see who Annabeth Albert brings to us next in this series! If you haven't started the Out of Uniform Series, I highly recommend them all! I couldn't put these books down!

My bad. I read this ficlet, didn't recognize anyone in the story .... and then realized that I hadn't read the corresponding book in the "Out of Uniform" series - Wheels Up.

Sex and kitties! (But not the same time.)

I love Dustin and Wes, so seeing their HEA is very satisfying.

The POV shifts were a little confusing, but, hey, this is a free shortie.

Three stars because this is a five minute read, and I wanted more. Not a standalone. Read book 4 first.

Melanie says

Wheels Up is my absolute favorite of the Out of Uniform series. There's just something about Dustin and Wes and their long journey to a HEA that I can't get enough of. So, I squealed with joy when I saw that they were getting a ficlet! In this story we get a tiny little snippet of the guys living life in DC and I was so happy to see them happy and in love. Swoooooon. I would take a second book for this couple in a heartbeat!!!

Laura says

Cute, short little slice-of-life ficlet. I liked seeing Dustin and Wes out of the Navy and starting to figure out civilian life and relationship, while working together in security.
