The Hunt Steve Barlow , Steve Skidmore

A seemingly normal laptop computer goes on-line - in another galaxy! You've got mail, but it's no AOL... Welcome to the Outernet.

The hunt is afoot. Yes, the Tyrant and his evil team of FOE's have stepped up their search for The Server. They've hired a team of hunters to track down Jack, Merle, Loaf, and, most importantly, their little techno-prize -- The Server. And this means trouble for Jack and his friends. While they're back home on Earth, the "Space Invaders" are closing in. Will they escape in time? It's going to take some creative thinking -- and the use of some ancient teleportation devices that happen to exist right here on Earth! A certain mysterious pile of rocks... known as Stonehenge...

Katie says

This is pretty good. They have to create a chain to keep the bad guys from t-mailing onto Earth. Jack's parents are captured in the end by the Tyrant (evil dude)
