Serene Sorcery

Makoto makes her way to a fabric shop in town in order to sew a new robe, and ends up crafting a surprise for Chinatsu, too. Makoto combines her mundane studies with a bit of witchcraft and makes a freaky treat. On the way home from a late-night meeting with her mentor, Makoto runs into Inukai. They head to the beach and meet an adorably mysterious creature that immediately makes itself at home...

DonutKnow says

I'm getting quite attached to these characters.

Chinatsu is so cute, and Kei is so reliable.

Makoto's familar is also hilariously sassy, and Al is so tiny but full of attitude as well :P

I also learned in this volume that it's okay to enjoy doing things because it means you learning more about the things you love. :D

Léa says

Loved this volume, it's just so funny, cute and weird. Always leaves me in a good mood.

Heather Ogle says

I love this book/series so much. It's so relaxing to read.

In this volume I especially loved the first chapter.

It was very heartwarming what Makoto did with the extra fabric.

I loved that Chito got a new cat bed out of it as well. ?

Bryn (Plus Others) says

This continues charming and amusing, and that feeling of surfaces is still there but a little less, possibly because as the series explores the magical world everyone is positioned somewhat outside the narrative? Regardless, I am really enjoying these and hope for more.

Cute cute cute! Laughed out loud a few times with this volume. But what's not cute is that I have to wait till March.

Amber says

This series just gets cuter and cuter, I can't wait for the next volume!

Donna says

Witch-in-training Makoto does normal things with a slight twist.

In this volume, Makoto makes a new robe, does some cooking at school, prunes apple trees, checks in with her mentor, and meets the most adorable little katsina (apparently this one is a beach spirit) that looks like a white ball with bunny ears. I adore any scenes with Chito, Makoto's black cat familiar, and this volume has some great ones.

Can't wait for the 5th volume!

So sweet! That last chapter had me in stitches laughing.

Travis says

Another enjoyable laid-back entry in the series. A few things are introduced that become more important later, like Makoto's mentor, Akira, and the katsina, Beachy. Chinatsu's contests with the later are pretty entertaining. Another interesting thing from this is an early chapter where Makoto bakes witch-finger cookies; an ex-girlfriend's father was really into making these, and that was the first and previously only place I had encountered them (his were quite realistic and creepily detailed).

Another sweet volume! Loving this series!

The beach bunny on page 130 had me dying. No entry afterhours!

Ray Rappisi says

Such a serene and leisurely manga with wonderfully delicate line work, (so, jealous!). This volume, for the most part was covered in the anime chapter for chapter. Ishizuka's character placements and their body language is to die for. I learn something new, art-wise every volume. One of my favs!

Claire says

BEACHY IS SO CUTE IM GONNA DIE

Nadina says

I loved this. All the various animals are adorable, especially the Beach Bunny. I'm going to be sad when I have to start waiting for the next volume to come out.

Laura says

My favorite volume so far. Very cute, very enjoyable. Characters were delightful, art was clean and adorable. A promising continuation in a solid series.
